Love God
Love Others

Major Jo`s Column

What do the words thy kingdom come mean to you? For many people they are just a few of the words in the Lord's prayer that they recite without really thinking about them. When we do give it some thought, we tend to imagine that God's kingdom is the place we go when our life on earth is ended. That is true but it is much more than that, Jesus told his followers the kingdom of God was within them, so in a spiritual sense, we are living in the kingdom now. John the Baptist and Jesus both began their ministry by saying that the kingdom of God had come. By saying these words, we are asking God to reign over everything now not just in heaven. They bring with them responsibilities firstly to make sure He is always first in everything we say and do and secondly to do everything we can to draw others towards joining us in the kingdom of God. That must surely bring some challenges to us. May God's kingdom come in all of us today.
